

EXECUTIVE BIOGRAPHY

ABOUT

Stefan Affolter is a senior executive and transformation leader with over 25 years of experience shaping the operational backbone and customer engagement models of Switzerland's major banks. During his tenure at Credit Suisse and UBS, he held key leadership roles - including Head of Business Enablement Operations, Chief of Staff & Transformation Lead Swiss Private Clients - driving strategic change programs that shaped (multichannel) customer engagement, streamlined end-to-end processing, improved service performance/efficiency, and advanced digital adoption. He is recognized for his ability to translate complex strategies into actionable results, develop high-impact leadership cultures, and foster collaboration between technology, business, and people. Stefan's professional journey reflects a consistent focus on operational excellence, business transformation, and data-driven decision making.

Beyond banking, Stefan is passionate about longevity and silver society societal challenge. He is engaging in AgeTech entrepreneurial initiatives - fostering digital innovation to simplify and enrich the lives of elderly generation (aging at home).
